

What Should I Include in my Abstract Submission Document?

- 1) Abstract Title. You enter this into paper management system in title line.
- 2) Authors/Presenters - You must provide all author names with one being identified as the presenting author. You must provide working e-mail for all authors, as this is the only way staff will communicate with authors.
- 3) Abstract proposal. (type this into a text box)

Short Description: Provide a description of what will be discussed during your individual presentation. This description should be about 250-500 words. This is your opportunity to sell your idea to NTPC. What will you talk about, why will the audience want to learn about this. Why is this important, new, different, innovative? What will the audience walk away with? How does this benefit the profession or the audience? Add anything else you think would help NTPC evaluate your submission over the 1,000 more they review.

Please remember all presenters are required to register for the conference and attend.
